

<Version 1.000 Zeichen> (998 Zeichen)

Novatec is an independent, owner-managed IT specialist. For over 25 years now, we've been leading customers into the digital future - with more than 300 IT experts at 9 sites. Our customers include numerous companies from diverse sectors. We help them with a whole range of IT issues - from the strategic concept to the actual application.

This starts with an individual requirements analysis leading to architectural and process recommendations and continuing above and beyond the software development phase. This is because we view digital innovation holistically and consistently use agile methods. Together with our customers, we explore how much we can use artificial intelligence, robot-controlled process automation, mixed and augmented reality, and other innovations to improve processes and develop new products.

We also share our know-how through different kinds of training, tailored to the needs of the customer on request.

<Version 600 Zeichen> (597 Zeichen)

Novatec is an independent, owner-managed IT specialist with more than 300 IT experts at 9 sites. For over 25 years now, we've been leading our customers into the digital future. We provide help from the strategic concept to the actual application.

This starts with a requirements analysis leading to architectural and process recommendations and continuing above and beyond the agile software development phase. Because we view digital innovation holistically.

We also share our know-how through different kinds of training, tailored to the needs of the customer on request.

<Version 500 Zeichen> (495 Zeichen)

Novatec is an independent, owner-managed IT specialist with more than 300 IT experts at 9 sites. For over 25 years now, we've been leading our customers into the digital future. We provide help from the strategic concept to the actual application.

This starts with a requirements analysis leading to architectural and process recommendations and continuing above and beyond the agile software development phase.

We also share our know-how through training courses that can be customer-specific.

<Version 200 Zeichen> (197 Zeichen)

Novatec is an owner-managed IT specialist. For over 25 years now, we've been leading our customers into the digital future. We provide help from the strategic concept to agile software development.

<Version 1.138 Zeichen>

Novatec is an independent, owner-managed IT specialist. For over 25 years now, we've been leading customers into the digital future - with more than 300 IT experts at 9 sites. Our customers include numerous companies from diverse sectors. We help them with a whole range of IT issues - from the strategic concept to the actual application.

This starts with an individual requirements analysis leading to architectural and process recommendations and continuing above and beyond the software development phase. This is because we view digital innovation holistically and consistently use agile methods. Together with our customers, we explore how much we can use artificial intelligence, robot-controlled process automation, mixed and augmented reality, and other innovations to improve processes and develop new products.

We also share our know-how in further training seminars workshops, and topic-based conferences. As well as offering standard training courses and certifications, we can provide events that are tailored to our customers' needs on request.